are Coming

When it comes to being well-groomed from head to toe, the best place to start is at the top. After all, women do notice a nice head of hair or a handsome face first.

"Men's hair care services are a top priority at Clive and Co.," said Clive Lamb, owner of Clive and Co. In addition to getting a fresh new haircut for the season, such as an undercut or a trendy long hairstyle, you can also get color or a gray-blending and a hot towel service at Clive and Co. to have you looking your best.

"With our standard of service and training, you're assured the best cut in the city," said Lamb. "Besides excellent, modern men's haircut services, we offer treatment for men that helps various hair and scalp issues. With the Italian hair care line by Davines, Clive and Co. men address issues such as dandruff, slow growth, product, chemical, and environmental toxin buildup, and hyper-production of oil. We also sell products that will complement in-salon treatments, so men can continue to treat these issues at home for a better good looks for work or a date night.

With a new haircut, color, and style in place, the next thing to worry about is possibly most important — is your face. Facial treatments and other factors really determine a person is, but a clean, well-maintained face is the difference between people respecting you, trusting you, and being attracted to you — not so the stakes are high! Start by getting a simple facial. At home, it is fine to simply wash your face in the shower or at the sink but every now and then it can be beneficial to get a facial at a salon to repair and restore damaged, fatigued, or dry skin.

Hand and Stone Massage and Facial is a great place to get a simple men's facial. The facial is designed to ease razor burn and deep pore cleaning and toning to restore moisture and hydration to your face, without all the side effects that come with many women's facials. All skin types — oily, dry, or normal — will benefit from this restoring facial. If it makes you feel better and look better, what's not to love?

Facials can only do so much, and sometimes you need a little more work done on your face than just a deep clean.

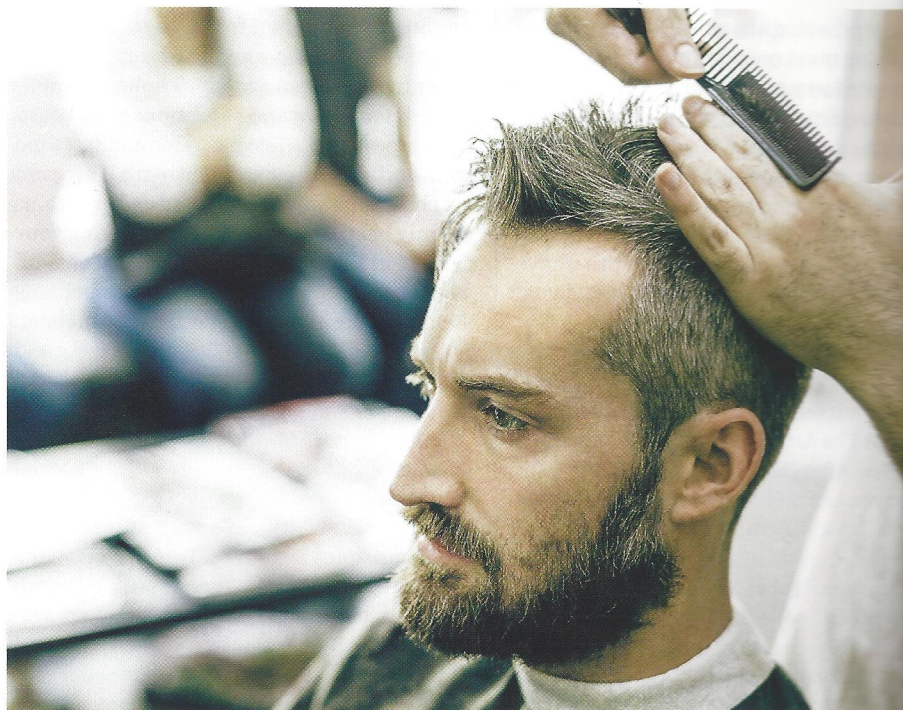

"Today, men want the same results as women want in terms of reducing signs of aging and sun damage, minimizing wrinkles, improving tone and texture, and body sculpting," said Fiona Wright, M.D., cosmetic dermatologist.

gist at Skin MD and Beyond. "At Skin MD and Beyond, we understand that this means men don't want their wrinkles eradicated entirely. They just want enough wrinkles removed to give a fresh look to their face. Men need to give the impression of a professional who has the wisdom and experience, and they have earned those wrinkles! It's important to maintain a natural and masculine appearance, and we have excelled in that artistry."

Besides wrinkle removal, Skin MD and Beyond can also offer an in-depth Visia Facial Analysis which is a series of comprehensive facial images to identify the skin's health above and below the surface. "Knowing that a man's skin texture is rougher and his pores are larger than women's, our chosen cleansers are clinically tested formulas specifically designed to make shaving easier, provide less skin irritation and inflammation, and reduce ingrown hairs." And since nobody likes ingrown hairs or irritated skin, these cleansers are worth the investment.
